

MARSHALL BLUNDELL

THE BASICS

---

I am a PhD student in Berkeley's Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics and a Graduate Student Researcher at the Energy Institute. My research interests include energy economics, industrial organization, and applied microeconomics.

EDUCATION

---

CURRENT    University of California, Berkeley
PhD student in agricultural and resource economics
Fields: energy and environmental economics, industrial organization

2009–2013    Stanford University
Bachelor of Arts in economics

WORK EXPERIENCE

---

University of California, Berkeley

CURRENT    Graduate Student Instructor for A,RESEC 210: Probability and Statistics.

2018–2019    Graduate Student Researcher for Professor Maximilian Auffhammer.

SPRING 2018    Reader for EEP 143, taught by Professor Brian Wright.

FALL 2018    Graduate Student Researcher for Professors Peter Berck and Sofia Villas-Boas.

Nexant, Inc.

2016–2017    Consultant to electric utility clients.

2014–2016    Analyst.

Freeman, Sullivan & Co. (Acquired by Nexant Inc.)

2013–2014    Analyst.

SKILLS

---

PROGRAMMING    Stata, R, GNU Octave, C/C++

APPLICATIONS     $\LaTeX$ , Microsoft Office.